GWTCA JOINS LAND MOBILE COMMUNICATIONS COUNCIL

January 30, 2019

The Government Wireless Technology & Communications Association (GWTCA)¹ is pleased to announce that it has joined the Land Mobile Communications Council (LMCC).

LMCC is a non-profit association of organizations that represent the wireless communications interests of public safety, critical infrastructure, business, industrial, transportation, private and common carriers, and manufacturers of wireless communications equipment. Numerous GWTCA members have participated in LMCC efforts through the years, and formally joining the organization will enable greater input and better representation for GWTCA members.

“GWTCA is excited to become a member of LMCC,” said GWTCA President Andrew Maxymillian. “Bringing GWTCA’s unique voice to such an important organization will bring tremendous benefits to our members and strengthens LMCC voice in front of FCC. We’re excited to get to work.”

For further information, and to review GWTCA’s work on Smart Cities, Small Cell Siting, Wireless Workforce Education and more, please visit www.gwtca.org. GWTCA can be followed on Twitter at @GWTCA1. You may also contact Maxymillian at Andrew.Maxymillian@bluewing.com.

¹ GWTCA is a non-profit trade association created to advocate on behalf of government and non-government users of wireless technology and communications in the public service industries, such as public transit. GWTCA’s membership includes government agencies, manufacturers, engineers and consultants working on a variety of issues impacting represented users.
